

SHORT NOTE

GRADE: 9

COURSE: B

BOARD: CBSE

SUBJECT: ENGLISH

SUBMITTED BY: RUCHI JAIN

TITLE: ISHWARAN THE STORY TELLER

Introduction of the Author:

R.K. Narayan was an Indian writer who wrote in English and is considered one of the best Indian authors of the 20th century. He was born in Madras, India in 1906 and is best known for his works set in the fictional town of Malgudi. Narayan's writing style is characterized by his use of humor and his ability to capture the essence of Indian life and culture.

Introduction of the Story:

"Ishwaran the Story Teller" is a short story written by R.K. Narayan. The story is set in the fictional town of Malgudi and revolves around a young boy named Ishwaran who is known for his storytelling abilities. He tells the stories in such way as if he is one of the witness of the story.

Overview:

The story is about a young boy named Ishwaran who is a gifted storyteller. He is known for his ability to captivate his audience with his stories. One day, Ishwaran decides to tell a story about a tiger to a group of people who are gathered around him. As he tells the story, he becomes so engrossed in it that he forgets where he is and begins to act out the story. The people around him become frightened and run away, leaving Ishwaran alone.

Flow of the Story:

- Ishwaran, a gifted storyteller, decides to tell a story to a group of people. As he tells the story, he becomes so engrossed in it that he forgets where he is and begins to act out the story. The people around him become frightened and run away, leaving Ishwaran alone.

Here are the main points from the story:

Chapter 1: Introduction

- The story is set in the fictional town of Malgudi.
- Ishwaran is a young boy who is known for his storytelling abilities.

Chapter 2: Ishwaran's Storytelling

- Ishwaran decides to tell a story about a tiger to a group of people.
- He becomes so engrossed in the story that he forgets where he is and begins to act out the story.

Chapter 3: The People's Reaction

- The people around him become frightened and run away, leaving Ishwaran alone.

Chapter 4: Ishwaran's Realization

- Ishwaran realizes that he has made a mistake by getting too carried away with his storytelling.
- He learns a valuable lesson about the importance of being aware of one's surroundings.

Conclusion

The story highlights the power of storytelling and the importance of being mindful of one's actions. The story is written in R.K. Narayan's signature style, which is characterized by his use of humor and his ability to capture the essence of Indian life and culture. In conclusion, "Ishwaran the Story Teller" is a short story written by R.K. Narayan about a young boy who is a gifted storyteller. The story is set in the fictional town of Malgudi and revolves around Ishwaran's ability to captivate his audience with his stories.